Appears to Be President McKinley's Policy.

POLITICAL ARGUMENT STRONG

House Sugar Schedule May Be Adopted.

Many Debatable Items Not Yet Brought Up in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 2 .- The uncertainty of keeping the clause of the pressing work is on hand. W. N. A. tariff bill separate from reciprocity and annexation still continues. The Republican caucus will settle the question, so far as the Republicans are concerned. The members of that caucus are not agreed, as yet, upon their policy, but it will not be unfriendly to Hawaii, though it may be friendly only in a modified sense.

The President and his Cabinet do not favor any indirect attack on the treaty, and remain as strongly as ever in-advocating "contro. of the Islands. The feeling in Congress is apparently growing that Hawaii has the best of the bargain under the treaty, and that there should be some modification of it. This feeling exists among some of the strong friends of Hawaii. In taking account of benefits under the treaty, only Custom House returns seem to be acceptable. Advantages arising out of shipping, commissions, and travel are regarded by many as vague and unreliable. One Senator, who favored annexation and the treaty, declares that he has changed his mind. He is in favor of annexation, but opposed to reciprocity on the ground that the benefits are unequal.

From the American standpoint, the political argument is the strongest. This is the meaning of the section in the Republican platform referring to Hawaii, and is so regarded here. Destroy that argument and it would go hard with the treaty. One able Democratic Senator said recently: "I feel that we must do something about Hawall. We shall need her in the future, but what shall we do about it? The Republican partý has destroyed our bor, when we have only ships of war and no merchantmen to put into it? experience. Free trade means a merchant marine and the need of outposts. But we must keep the control of Hawaii, if we can. It looks as if reciprocity works badly. The more reciprocity the more Asiatics. We, of the South, know better than the men of the West, the political and social unrest which comes from ignorant races or from races with none of our political education. Reciprocity has driven the Hawaiian Islands off to Asia, instead of bringing them near to America. In spite of these obstacles we must do something about it. What? What can be done towards stopping our dog-in-the-manger policy, which is not just? Hawaii is a small affair, in a certain sense, but it involves a vital principle. There is such a thing as undue haste. Our Republican friends hurrled into Statehood several new Western States, on the theory that they would strengthen the party. They find that these States have gone over to silver and hold the balance of power. Now, we must govern Hawaii by force, if we take her, and abandon the principle of self-government to a large extent." The substance of a conversation is given, in order to exhibit a phase of thought here. Its significance is that it does not shelve the Hawaiian matter, but fully recognizes its importance and anxiously seeks for a solution'. The situation is vastly better than that and everything pertaining to business for can see here Rear-Admiral Ammer, full six months. "The people are all right," he says, "but Congress is too right," he says, indifferent."

The Cuban matter shows the need and the power of the balance wheel of the Executive in the administration of public affairs. While the Republican platform commits the Executive to active interference in Cuban affairs, and both houses of Congress are hot about the matter, the President, under the heavy weight of responsibility, hesttates to act until he knows the facts. He knows, as every man knows who deals with foreign and even domestic affairs, that it is not easy to obtain reliable information. Spain now says that the Cuban rebellion has been suppressed. The revolutionists deny it. This important fact cannot be discovered, without a knowledge of the situation, the visiting of the sections of the island in disturbance, the judging gists and dealers. sides, ascertaining the quality of the war material on hand. The President, under great difficulties, is trying to secure this information, and he will act on it, one way or the other, as soon as he obtains it. He and not Congress will be held responsible for the policy of the United States by the future his-

The debate on the tariff bill is somewhat deceptive. The Senate is making rapid progress, but many of the most important and debatable items have been passed over for the present. When there are taken up, they may provoke a long and bitter debate. The sugar schedules will soon be reached, but the paragraph referring to the treaty may be deferred to a later debate. Several of the friends of the treaty, in the Senate, believe that the prevailing opinion today is that the House bill will be sustained without debate, not because it is altogether acceptable, but in order to get the matter out of the way during the present session.

The death of Mr. Hastings may require the appointment of a new Secretary of Legation. The place should be filled by a man who has large acquaintance among public men here, and knows the detail of the departments. To appoint any other kind of person would be simply to spend several years in educating him for the position. A raw hand, unless possessed of great and peculiar gifts, would be of little use, in the present time, when

WASHINGTON, June 2.-Frank P. Hastings, Secretary of Legation in Washington, died at 5 o'clock in the Vegotiations to His afternoon on May 29th, in his apartments, No. 1730 H street. Since he fell in a convulsion on the floor of the Blue Room in the White House, on the evening of May 19th, at the reception given by the President to the Postal Congress, he failed to improve. The physicians soon discovered that his liver and kidneys were seriously affected, and no application of remedies improved his condition. He took no nourishment excepting milk. He had several more convulsions during the last three days. It was believed that his case was a very serious one two days after the first attack. He was conscious a part of the time, and suffered little pain. At times he was delirious, and as the blood poisoning increased he showed fever and became restless. After another convulsion on the seventh day he grew worse, and the physicians said he would not survive another attack. On the tenth day he died.

Mr. Hastings, owing to his residence y Washington, some years ago, and NEW YORK, June 2.—The Herald's his official position as Secretary of the Havana special says: Calhoun sails Legation, had made many valuable acquaintances with public men. His manners were affable, and he had the reputation of using excellent judgment in dealing with the Foreign Office. IT IS WILLIAM HAYWOOD. Will Succeed Consul Mills in Honolulu.

WASHINGTON, June 1.-The President today sent the following nominations to the Senate: William Haywood of the District of Columbia, to be secretary of the Legation and Consul-General of the United States at Honolulu, Hawaii; William L. Penfield of Indians, to be solicitor of the Department of State; John K. Thompson, Marshai of the United States for the District of West Virginia.

The Senate today confirmed the following: William Haywood of the District of Columbia to be secretary of the Legation and Consul-General of the United States at Honolulu, Ha-Mr. Haywood is a son-in-law of Hon.

Jere M. Wilson, and has been for some time a clerk in the State Department. Mr. Haywood is a District boy, having been born in this city in 1863. Upon the organization of the Court of Commissioners of Alabama Claims he was appointed law clerk to the counsel for the United States, remaining in the position until the expiration of the court. During the campaign of 1884 he was one of Mr. Blaine's secretaries. At the beginning of the Harrison administration he entered the Department of State as confidential secretary to the late Walker Blaine. Upon the death of the latter, the following year, he was appointed confidential clerk to the Assistant Secretary of State, and served under three Assistant Secretaries, viz., Wharton, Quincy and Uhl.

When Mr. Uhl was appointed Ambassador to Germany, Mr. Haywood reoffice of Judge Wilson, and has practiced law since. Mr. Haywood was sent to Aix-la Chapelle as Vice Consul during the Harrison administraan appointment should be made. While in the State Department he was sent on several missions requiring much tact and discretion. He is a graduate of the Columbia Law School and a member of the District bar; is married, and has a son and daughter. He is also a well-known member of the Metropolitan Club.

Mr. Haywood was strongly indorsed for the position to which he has been confirmed, having been backed by Representative Hitt, formerly Assistant Secretary of State; former Assistant Secretaries Wharton and Quincy, Senators Lodge, Frye, Thurston, Hawley, and Elkins, and Representative Dalzell. Mr. Haywood expects to leave for his post of duty in about two weeks. In speaking of him yesterday, Consul educated, and fit for the place. He has a high standing in Washington, and a man of ability. He is married, and two fine children—a son and a daughter. He and Mrs. Hayward are great society people at the Capital, and I have no doubt they will become social favorites here."

General Ellis Mills said: "He is a splendid young man, highly

Republicans to Discuss the Sugar Schedule Again.

OPPOSITION TO SENATE RATES

House Bill May Be Closely Followed.

Hawaiian Interests May Receive Recognition-Perhaps a Beet Sugar Bounty.

WASHINGTON, June 7.-Chairman Allison of the Republican Senatorial caucus decided today to call the caucus together tomorrow at 10 o'clock. The meeting has been under contemplation for several days, owing to the fact that there are various articles on which it has been found desirable to have the party in the Senate agree in its assembled capacity, and the calling of the caucus was precipitated by the fact that the sugar schedule had been practically reached in its order and it became necessary to decide what position the party should take upon this question.

There has been very pronounced opposition among many Republican Senators to the schedule as prepared by the Senate Committee on Finance, some of them going so far as to declare they would not vote for it unless altered. Some of these Senators declare they will not obey even the behest of the caucus, in case it declares for the Finance Committee's schedule. The Finance Committee admit this state of affairs and also admit that a change will be made which will make the schedule acceptable to the entire party in the Senate.

It is now expected that the schedule proper will be the same as the House bill, with an addition to duties on lowest grades of sugars of 1-10 of a cent a pound over the Dingley bill rates, which provide a tariff of 1 cent a pound on 75-degree sugars, with an increase of 3-100 of a cent a pound for each additional degree. This would affect sugars up to 87 degrees strength. Another plan which has many friends is to cut the ad valorum rate of the Senate bill, which is now 35 to 25 per cent, and increase specific duties to correspond. In either event, where differential and refined sugar, as now figured, is 1-8 of a cent a pound, it is to be increased to 3-16 of a cent. This, it is figured, will give proper protection to beet sugar.

The clause providing for Hawaiians will provoke much argument. There will be two amendments proposed to the bill. One is the same as that which has always before been carried, providing nothing in the bill shall abrogate or impair the treaty of 1875. For this Senator Frye, who is leading the fight, still maintains that he will have a majority of votes.

The second is that outlined in the 'Chronicle,'' providing that nothing shall impair the treaty for one year, but within that time a new treaty shall be negotiated, imposing on Hawaiian sugars a two-thirds duty. This, it is figured, will give 45 of a cent bounty to island sugar. Another clause will provide for a bounty of a half a cent a pound on beet sugar, to continue for five years, and disappearing at the rate of 20 per cent each year. It is though only 33 or 34 years of age, has believed that the Senate provision admitting into the country free of duty sugar-beet machinery for two years will be kept in the bill.

Senator Aldrich is expected to be present at the caucus. He is convalescent, and his friends say he will be able to attend tomorrow's meeting. It is probable that the caucus would not be held in his absence. There are various other questions which will be taken up in the caucus if the sugar question does not occupy the entire

In this purpose the President and his which the annexation is to be brought about has not fully been determined, but it is regarded as not at all improbable that Hawaii will be part of the United States within a year. The formalities to be observed by the Hawaitan Government in seeking annexation and by the American Congress in accepting the responsibility cannot be completed much before that time.

FOR NO AMENDMENT. Fight For Annexation Not for a Few Dollars.

WASHINGTON, June 3 .- "We will never consider any amendment of the reciprocity treaty; we are fighting for annexation, not for a few dollars, and will not complicate our case by agreeing to any other change in our relations with the United States than closer political relations."

Thus was the situation expressed by one of the Hawalian annexation commissioners today. The Senate Finance Committee has taken no action yet in framing a substitute for the House clause exempting Hawaiian sugars. Senators Perkins is of the opinion the treaty must be amended or abrogated. Already he has begun to hear from the opposite side in California. Petitions from San Joaquin and Alameda pan. farmers, asking a continuance of the treaty relations reached him today while on the House side Barlow filed resolutions of the San Luis Obispo Farmers Alliance against abrogation.

The odd circumstance is presented of Democrats and Populists from the interior being in doubt as to what action to take, with chances favoring their voting for maintaining the treaty while San Franciscans are either expressed opponents of the treaty or are lukewarm. John D. Spreckels and Senator Felton are working for abro-

The fight for the retention of the treaty is expected to take a new boom tomorrow on the arrival of Gus Spreckels from San Francisco.

GUS SPRECKELS IN WASHINGTON. He Expresses His Opinions to Some Senators.

WASHINGTON, June 5. - Gus Spreckels, who put in his first day's work today, would not talk about the outlook, though others interested affect confidence. He has come direct from the Islands, and his utterances are taken to prove that the Island Government will not meet compromise efforts half way, but will fight out attacks on old lines. To some Senators he met today Spreckels said Americans in the Islands wanted reciprocity as it now stands, or abrogation, and would fight it out on that line.

Senator White has reached the conclusion that he cannot support a continuance of the treaty as it stands, but will favor annexation, as will Senator Perkins. He said tonight he did not know but there might be votes enough to hold the treaty in the bill. He was aware, he said, that steps to that end would be taken which might succeed.

Senator Perkins today introduced in the Senate two petitions from San Joaquin and Alameda farmers asking a continuance of the treaty as the Islands furnish the foremost market for farm produce.

SENATOR FRYE TALKS. Expects to Control Caucus in Favor of the Treaty.

WASHINGTON, June 5. - "There must be a caucus on the sugar schedule and I expect we will be able to control a majority of the caucus in favor of continuing the Hawaiian reciprocity treaty."

Senator Frye of Maine, who has made a fight against any changes in the commercial convention, which means so much to San Francisco's trade, so expressed his belief today. He continued:

"I hear that the Finance Committee has already decided to report, instead of the amended clause as to reciprocity with the Hawaiian Islands the same one as is in the House bill, and is in the Wilson law now in force, which continues in force all the provisions of the treaty as it stands. I do not believe there is strength enough in the opposition to the treaty to make 'the tariff bill a medium for changing any

ANOTHER RESOLUTION.

Davis Offers Amendment Against Abrogation.

WASHINGTON, June 1.-Hawalian matters came to the front in both houses today. Senator Davis, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, introduced an amendment to the tariff bill which provides that nothing in the bill shall be construed as abrogating the reciprocity treaty.

In the House of Representatives King of Utah introduced a resolution which recites that the conditions in Cuba and Hawaii are approaching such a condition that action may be necessary at any moment and calling for the appointment of a Foreign Relations Committee. This is due to the publication of the latest news from Hawaii setting forth the strained relations between that country and Ja-

SEARLES GOES FREE. Sugar Magnate Declared Not By the Jury.

WASHINGTON, June 1.-In the case of John E. Searles, the sugar trust witness, Judge Bradley ordered the jury to bring in a verdict of acquittal, holding that the questions asked by the Senate committee were not pertinent, and if so were not within the jurisdiction of the committee.

The Judge's opinion was exhaustive. He pointed out that Searles had testified specifically that no money had been contributed by the sugar trust to the national campaign or for the purpose of influencing legislation or the election of United States Senators. As to the local contributions Searles had testified that he did not know how the contributions had been used, by whom and for what purpose. The jury accordingly rendered a verdict of not guilty and Mr. Searles was free.

A BRITISH VIEW OF IT. Editorial on the Tariff and Sugar Speculation.

LONDON, June 3.-The Chronicle in an editorial on the tariff debate and the allegations that Senators have been improperly involved in sugar stock speculations, says:

It would be hard to find a more striking instance of the folly of protection as the real cure of economic depression. While the British exchequer is full to overflowing the American Treasury is suffering from a deficit. If we should be fools enough to begin this business of tariff tinkering, which destroys all commercial stability, we would soon find ourselves in the same predicament.

BURIED ON MOLOKAI.

Waialeale Returns After Leaving Remains of R. W. Meyer.

The steamer Waialeale returned from Molokai at about 5 a. m. yesterday, after having taken to that island for interment the body of R. W. Meyer, late superintendent of the leper settlement.

The Waialeale arrived in Kaunakahakai about 7 a. m. Monday, after quite a rough passage from Honolulu. The water there, upon arrival, was as smooth as a mill-pond. The funeral party accompanying the casket, went toward shore in boats until shallow water was reached, when they were transported aboard scows to traverse the remainder of the distance. The easket was placed in the express, taken down on the Walaleale for the purpose. and removed to the family home at Kalai, a place about nine miles distant from Kaunakahakai.

San Diego Man Receives Letter From Honolula.

DISCUSSED FREELY AFFAIRS

Government Comes in for Criticism.

Trust's Figures on a Sugar Bid ignored By the Government.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 5.-An officer of the United States cruiser Philadelphia, writing to a friend here, gives a very clear idea of the situation at Honolulu with reference to the Japanese immigration dispute. As naval officers New York and one from Chicago, Five are prohibited from the public discussion of political or diplomatic affairs, the name of the officer is necessarily withheld. He writes under date of May the sugar," said Commissioner Jones, 26th, as follows:

peaceable, but there is every prospect of considerable activity, in diplomatic gets the contract. circles at least. There is not a shadow of doubt that the Government of this country committed a grave error when vited immigration, especially that of 'laborers under a three-years' conof the term either return to their native land or remain here. This Government claims that it may make any change in its immigration laws it may see fit, but I do not think the law of dustry. nations permits it to make such changes as would abrogate a treaty with another nation.

"Another clause states that immigrants not under contract must be the bona-fide possessors of $50 in gold. This was overcome by the immigration companies through the Yokohama Specie Bank, which has a branch here, by supplying each immigrant with a certified check for that amount, and have thus succeeded in colonizing the country with an undesirable population The Government here has just awakened to a realization of the Japanning of the Islands, and is using every means to evade it.

"There is no doubt that Japan is right in assuming the stand it has, and as it is a question between the two nations, I fail to see how the United States can interfere. The Hawaiian Government is guilty of breaking a treaty with another nation, and the question is one of such a nature and of such importance that it cannot practicably be settled by arbitration, but must be settled by either the payment of damages or the withdrawal of Japan's demands.

"The latter alternative is not very bely as the Japanese seem to be well versed in diplomacy, and know their demands are just.

"This may sound absurd coming from an American, but I cannot fail to see the errors being daily committed by this Government. For instance, the answer to the Japanese Minister's demands appeared in the evening papers here two hours before the Minister received them himself. Did you ever hear of such a breach of diplomatic tact? And in this way errors are committed daily. The solution of the question is afar off.

"In regard to the annexation of the Islands, I must say I have changed my opinion, and I do not think the United States would be benefited by it. There is only one advantage to be gained, and that is, we would have a midocean naval station. This is offset by the taking on our shoulders of the millions of debt of the Islands, their leper settlement and their motley population. Of course, they are governed quite well at present, but how long will it last? There are some 27,000 Japanese on the Islands, and should they nominate one of their own nation, say for the Presidency, what would be the consequences? They are not barred from citizenship, the only requirement being that they read and write the English language. This is an easy President Barrios of Guatemala Takes task to accomplish when there is an object such as the above in view.

"Every nation in the world realizes our claims on the Islands, indefinite as they are, but this will not prevent other nations from demanding their rights. There is no danger of Japan or any other country molesting the Islands, and Americans can rest assured that, at the proper time, the annexation of Hawaii will be a mere matter of form, and can be done when the emergency necessitates it.

"The Islands would be useless to us unless strongly fortified, and a permanent naval station established. This would require the appropriation of a considerable sum of money, which could be used to more advantage in fortifying our sea-port cities, or in a dozen other ways We have Pearl Harbor here, for which he have paid very dearly, and no nation will dispute our claims. I believe it will be always necessary to have at least one of our vessels here, and, if possible, two, in order to protect both our own country's interests and those of the American residents here

TRUST IS STUBBED. Government Makes a Parchase of Sugar Abroad.

NEW YORK, May 29.-The United States Government accepted the bld today for 1,250,000 pounds of foreign granulated sugar, entirely ignoring the offers made for supplying a home production because the American Sugar Refining Company arbitrarily dictated the price at which dealers in its sugars should sell, while the importer having a free field and a knowledge of the rate fixed by the Sugar Trust, cut under it 16-100 of a cent a pound.

A notice posted today at the Government warehouse reads: "Gustav A. Jahn, 0414 sugar." That means the yearly supply of sugar for the Indian Bureau, costing $53,125, will be purchased from Mr. Jahn, who will supply the imported product. The Indian Bureau is the largest single purchaser of sugar in the United States, and its offers for bids for the annual supply is always watched for with interest. They were opened Tuesday, and it was found that six had been filed, five from of these bids offered sugar at 4 40-100 of a cent a pound, while one bid offered it at 4% cents a pound.

"I made the award on the merit of when asked about the matter.

"The sample submitted by the im-"The situation here is as yet quite porter came up to the required standard, and his being the lowest bid, he

"This state of affairs has come about not because American sugar could not have been offered at a profit as low as it refused to allow the immigrants to the foreign production, but because land, as in its treaty with Japan it in- the Sugar Trust dictated the price at serted a clause by which Hawaii in- which we should offer it," said one of the bidders when asked about the true contract labor. This clause reads that inwardness of the case. "It would not be well for me if the trust knew I was tract" could land, and at the expiration complaining, but its arbitrary action is an outrage, and the result in this case is that their own product is kept out of the Indian Bureau to the injury of dealers and all workers in the in-

"Even the sacks in which the sugar will be imported will be of foreign make. This is the effect of the "factor' plan, which enforces an 'equality' price. That is, we factors, must sell at just the price the trust dictates. As it controls the American output we are helpless. When the price changes, we are notified and are governed by the new figures. If we should depart from them the American Sugar Refining Company would quote us a price on sugar that would be prohibitory and drive us out of business. In this case, many of us could have bid as low as the importer and made a profit, but we did not dare to."

GREEK CABINET WILL SIGN. Conditions of Armistics for Restor ation of Peace.

ATHENS, June 4.-The Cabinet decided this evening to sign a sea armistice on the following conditions:

"The Greek fleet will quit Ottoman waters. Vessels under Turkish or neutral flags bound to or returning from Turkish ports, and vessels north of the in Cuba. armistice line, will not be examined. Vessels carrying troops and munitions of the Turkish army will not be alonter ports north of the line The Turkish fleet must not leave the Dardanelles The dispatch of re-enforcements to garrison towns in the archipelago is prohibited."

The armistice permits the revictualing of the Turkish troops by way of ports south of the armistice line on condition that vessels may be visited by the Consuls of the powers residing the recall of Captain-General Weyler in the nearest town. The entry of Greek men-of-war into the Ambracian Gulf is also permitted.

A requiem mass was celebrated in the Catholic Church this morning for the repose of the souls of the foreign volunteers killed in the war with Turkey. A magnificent catafalque, upon which was a sarcophagus enveloped with palms and Greek flags, occupied the center of the aisle near the main altar. The sarcophagus was surmounted by the sword of the Italian Santa Rosa, who fought during the war of Greek independence. All the Cabinet speeches from counsel. Ministers and many members of the diplomatic corps were present, in addition to an enormous gathering of Garibaldans and other foreign volunteers, who also furnished a guard of honor for the occasion.

Joaquin Yela, the Consul-General of Guatemala here, was seen tonight regarding the reported dictatorship of President Barrios and would scarcely credit the news.

country.' Gen. Jose Barrios, President of Guatemala, was born in San Marcos 38 years ago. He is a nephew of the former President, Justo Rufino Barrios, who was killed in 1885.

ANOTHER FINANCIAL SCHEME. lecretary Gage Preparing a New

Measure for Congress. NEW YORK, June 7 .- A dispatch from Washington says that Secretary Gage is preparing a financial measure to be submitted to Congress next winter. In pursuance of this plan he has sent out a letter to 200 leading bankers and merchants inviting suggestions for placing the currency upon a sound

In outline the scheme will embrace the gradual retirement of the greenbacks and the substitution of national bank notes therefor, allowing national banks to issue to the full limit, instead of 90 per cent. as now; reducing the tax on national bank circulation from 1 per cent. to one-fourth of 1 per cent., and limiting the denominations of bank notes and other paper money to $10; and substituting silver for all below $10. There will probably be a provision for branch banks, and there is a suggestion that State and municipal bonds may be used as a basis not to exceed 50 per cent. of the note circulation.

Secretary Gage, has, in fact, already commenced to carry out his scheme for retiring greenbacks as far as possible ander the present law by locking up in the Treasury greenbacks and Treasury notes. These classes of notes have greatly increased since March 4th, and on June 1st there was held in the Treasury of both classes about $60,-000,000.

The question of a suitable harness for plowing, has for many years been a subject of much perplexity and worry to planters, farmers and agriculturists generally With the ordinary whiffle trees and trace chains, much annoyance was caused through the chains becoming entangled with the horses legs or the whiffletree striking against their heels. All this is, however, changed by the introduction of SHER-WOOD'S STEEL HARNESS.

This is really the most complete and wonderful thing in the harness line ever offered to the public. Singletrees, doubletrees and traces are entirely done away with, and a single chain is all the coupling used between the team and plow or wagon, whichever may be used. The whole arrangement is simplicity itself, and the price $25 the set, well within the reach of every teamster.

FRANK P. HASTINGS.

"For he was a good friend and a true gentleman." These were the words written by United States Senator John T. Morgan in referring to the untimely death of Frank P. Hastings, news of which was received in this city by Tuesday's steamer. In these few words Senator Morgan has expressed the sentiments of every friend who came in contact with Mr. Hastings in his home or during his career as a public official. No higher tribute can be paid to any man. Aside from deep sorrow of relatives and friends, Hawaii as a nation has, by the death of Mr. Hastings, lost one of its most able officials, and at a time when he was doing his best work for the country of his adoption. In his four years of service as secretary of the Hawaiian legation at Washington Mr. Hastings has never been found wanting. He had the true instincts of a diplomat coupled with untiring zeal to accomplish the purposes that would serve the welfare of the nation he represent-He was an unassuming, honindefatigable worker and gave a personality and dignity to his position that will never be overshadowed or forgotten for many years to come. The universal opinion that the country has not today among its citizens one who can carry out as successfully the work Mr. Hastings has left unfinished is the best evidence of Hawaii's appreciation of his true

HAWAII IN WASHINGTON.

Again the news from the United States Congress leaves Hawaii hanging on the hopeful edge of hope. After two weeks of blissful ignorance the returns from the States bring the assurance that during this time no more ominous clouds have appeared upon the horizon than were there when we last heard from the seat of war. Under the circumstances this is decidedly satisfactory since our enemies are making about as fierce an attack as possible and there is more or less comfort in the feeling that all their big guns have been fired. To add to the hopeful outlook we have the newspaper forecasts that the Senate will probably restore the Hawaiian clause in the sugar schedule of the tariff bill. We have learned however, not to put too much confidence in forecasts as surprises seem to be the order of the day. Our next advices will probably bring news of | the settlement of the problem so mirers of the progressive spirit of far as Hawaiian sugars and the the Mikado's empire, and surely United States are concerned.

This eternal battledore and shuttlecock business which Hawaii's commercial interests have to go through every time a tariff bill from Japan for indemnity, and for is brought into the American Congress ought to convince the people irrespective of race or faction that the opening of the correspondence, our only salvation is annexation. I taking the information given out The periodical shaking up of the business of the country is quite as ruinous as the political embrolios. There seems to be no doubt that publican policy of "control" shall be interpreted "annexation." To Hawaii this should be the signal forcontinuing the annexation campaign with the same active determination that has characterized the struggle to maintain the treaty. There should be no let up. The fight should not be considered won and our advocates withdrawn when the sugar schedule is settled. In season and out, whether Congress is in session or representatives Hawaii's should be constantly in the field quick to take advantage of every hopeful indication and watchful to discover the probable course of action of their opponents. Politics must be taken as they are, not as we think they ought to be, and we must not if success is hoped for, force impossible tasks upon one or two overworked diplomatic representatives.

MR. FITZGERALD'S MISSION.

As some of the California papers have charged that the mission of Labor Commissioner Fitzgerald to the Islands was entirely a political move, intended to affect the action of the United States in Hawaiian matters, and was not a movement made in good faith, we give a brief, but accurate account of the origin of this mission. The parties engaged in it, did not care to declare their intentions on "posters," but preferred to make it successful, before making it public. It was understood by all the parties, that there might be an unfavorable result to Mr. Fitzgerald's mission, as it was purely a business affair, and he was requested to pur sue his own course in any investi-

The statement we publish shows that Mr. Fitzgerald's mission was a purely business matter, suggested by men who had faith in white labor, and it was believed that if it was successful, it would revolutionize, in time, the social and political conditions of the Islands. The planters were not invited to join in the invitation to Mr. Fitzgerald to visit the Islands. The Government neither aided, or supported the movement, although it approved of it.

The Ewa Plantation Company promoted this enterprise along the line of its new methods of using to create more interest in the conlabor, and in its earnest desire to place plantation property in these Islands on a better foundation. Mr. Armstrong's interest in the matter arises solely from his conviction that "the only way to Americanize the Islands, is to Americanize them, and if that is impossible, then let them go to the Asiatics and done with it."

JAPAN'S HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

The principles of international comity announced from time to time by the Japanese authorities have been gratifying to all adhave been reassuring to Hawaii in view of the immigration question between the two countries.

a key note of progress, creditable alike to himself, and the Government he represented. Undoubtedly Japan wishes to conduct its foreign relations upon the lines of this advanced sentiment, but like many another nation finds it hard

It is perhaps to be admitted that, with its pronounced diplomatic principles, Japan in initiating its correspondence in the immigration matter, should have stated its case, and asked for Hawaii's explanation, following western precedents, instead of announcing its conclusions, and making demands based upon what must have been an exparte examination, and it is most probable that it will come to see that an exhaustive study of the evidence in the hands of the Hawaiian Government, relating to the conduct of the immigration companies, is desirable in view of the importance of its own understanding of the case.

If such companies have been attempting to evade the Hawaiian regulation, the Japanese Government will want to know it, not only for a clear understanding of the main issue, but also for the protection of its own subjects, and the prevention of acts tending to cast discredit upon Japanese business

Whether it is in the right, or not, it does not appear that the Hawaiian Government has had, as yet, an opportunity of making the full explanation, which it is supposed to be ready to make, and the Japanese Government certainly will not come to any final conclusion before it is in possession of all the facts.

The letter of "an officer of the Philadelphia" to a San Diego friend should be taken as one of the curiosities of correspondence from Hawaii. "An officer of the Philadelphia" is a decidedly vague term and might apply to any one from the lowest ranked petty officer to the Admiral, consequently the article takes the position of any anonymous communication. As the writer feared to sign his name it cannot be said positively that an officer wrote it, as we have known newspapers to tack on dignified suggestions as to authorship in order tents of a story. The individual's attempts to state facts show clearly that he doesn't know what he is talking about. This Government has made no changes in the laws relating to the admission of contract laborers. It does however, reserve the right require contract laborers to come to the country according to the law. The writer of the article evidently made up his mind and then proceeded to manufacture facts to support his conclusions. As to his opinions on annexation, they may be taken for what they are worth. Any one who knows anything of the country is aware that the Japanese are not voters and can't be under the present Constitution. The "easy task" of creating a Japanese electorate is an impossibility. man has a right to change his opinions, but before this so-called "officer of the Philadelphia," whether he is an officer or a San Diego newspaperman, delivers any more wise sayings to the public we would suggest that he read up a little on

Herbert Myrick writing for the Review of Reviews on "Sugar-The American question of the Day," says the striking out of the Hawaiian clause in the Senate sugar schedule was "admittedly a subterfuge to capture Senator Jones' vote." We do not know whether Mr. Myrick speaks from the card or not, but if he does we hope the temporary rejection of the clause has served its purpose and the item will be promptly restored. Mr. Myrick does not favor the continuance of what he be based on justice," he sounded competition," for which the Dingley bill provides, but when he compares the sugar schedules of the Senate and House as a whole he is inclined to accept the latter as the least of two evils. The free admission of sugar machinery for two years is characterized as submission to a request from Claus Spreckels, as it will "save him vast sums on the plant for the biggest beet sugar factory in the world, that he is now building at Salinas, Cal." This looks as if the Senate schedule had made a sharp division in the ranks of the sugar men of the United States, and that many who have been our enemies would for the present at least become friends by force of circumstances. From the general tenor of Mr. Myrick's article he speaks for the beet sugar farmers as opposed to the Trust.

> The selection of a successor to the late Frank P. Hastings is a matter of no small importance. At first thought many of our citizens have felt that the most judicious move would be to appoint a Washington man who has an intimate acquaintance with the public men about the capitol; one who would not require an extended term of education in getting acquainted. On the other hand it is recognized that any Washingtonian who has nothing at stake in Hawaii is likely to be considered by Senators and Representatives as in the same category as the lobbyist. such an impression get abroad and Hawaii would be the sufferer. Talk as they may of the "power of the lobby," the fact still remains that Congressmen are inclined to slum the man who is a paid agent, while the one arguing and working from firm conviction is given a more ready hearing and his words carry more weight. There are of course remarkable exceptions to the rule and if our officials can find one of them the country can at the present time afford to offer large inducements, if not they cannot, home timber is preferable.

The Orange Judd Farmer, an gricultural weekly issued in Chicage, but controlled by parties in Springfield, Mass., who also own American Agriculturalist. the publishes the statement that the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution favoring the abrogation of the Hawai- Y. M. C. A. Hall Crowded-Essays ian Treaty. The grounds given for this action are that the San Francisco merchants consider the prospects of the California beet sugar industry of more importance than the trade with Hawaii. The Farmer suggests to its readers that if San Francisco merchants do not want the Treaty continued there is certainly no reason why farmers of the Middle West should not oppose it. This statement regarding the action of the San Francisco merchants is news. Not only this, it is a rank misrepresentation of the majority of the mercantile houses of that city, and ought not to pass unnoticed.

The sundry civil bill started out with an appropriation of $100,000 for the improvement of Pearl Harbor. The Senate cut it down to $50,000 and the House rejected the item. Now it has emerged from the conference committee and accepted by Congress as $10,-000. Small favors are thankful received and if this sum will furnish the necessary wherewithal to erect a pole on which to raise the American flag over Hawaii, the people here will throw up their hats in honor of the $10,000.

After reviewing the situation as gained from newspaper reports the New York Sun says of Hawaii's roubles with Japan: "What will be the outcome? Possibly the Japanese Minister will take himself home in dudgeon. If Hawaii stood alone she might quickly be forced to submit, as she has no navy, while ably she relies, and not without reason, on the fact that she has a backer in the United States, who will not see a question of disputed treaty interpretation decided against her by brute force. The exact merits of the case cannot yet be fully judged of, perhaps, as the diplomatic correspondence has not been made public. But the controversy suggests the kind of difficulties that the little island republic will have to be prepared for while she remains in her present political isolation. Fortunately that isolation may not continue very long."

The Board of Education has done very well in the matter of Executive sessions, but we believe a grievous error was committed at the last meeting when the public was shut out from the investigation of matters that will be common talk today. It is far better for the public to know exact facts; than it is for indefinite inklings to be scattered about and the usual hasty and often unjust conclusions drawn therefrom. The ban of secrecy always suggests a line of attack upon the work of officials, which if the facts were known would not be given a second thought. Having a knowledge of one of the principal matters occupying the attention of the Comsioners of Education yesterday, we fail to see wherein public or private interests were best served by discussing the matter in hand behind closed doors.

The participants in the Japan Hawaii tug-of-war seem to be laying on the rope waiting for some one to show signs of weakening. During the lull in the "tug" the rumorologist is doing fine work that results in drawing a crowd and exciting new interest. C. Ah Fook Wins First Prize for Oratory.

Read and Prizes Awarded.

The prize oratorical contest in the Y. M. C. A. last night, on the subject of 'The Objects and Results of the American Revolution," and for prizes offered by the Hawaiian Society, Sons of American Revolution, was attended by an audience that filled nearly every chair in the lecture hall. About one-half of those present were students from the various schools, drawn thither more especially by the anticipation of a close contest for first place as orator between the only two contestants. W. B. Godfrey, Jr., and W. C. Ah Fook, both students of Oahu College. Rev. D. P. Birnie, acting as chairman of the evening, spoke of the profound regret on the part of all, of the absence of Mr. P. C. Jones, the regular chairman, who was at home sick.. He then referred to the great interest that Mr. Jones had always shown in matters relating to the Hawaiian Society, Sons of American Revolution. The vice president, Chief Justice Judd, being absent in the States, he, as a member of the committee appointed to arrange for the contest, had been called upon to preside.

Mr. Birnie then referred to Article II of the Constitution, in which is contained the objects of the society. One of these is to encourage research into American history among the students of the various schools

The article referred to provides for the awarding of prizes for crations on subjects of American history, written and delivered by the competitors themselves. A mistake had been made by students in the Hilo schools and five essays had been written and sent down for competition. Since there were no prizes offered by the society for es says, the members had offered a special first and second prize for the same.

The first essay, by Miss Harriet K Hapai, of Hilo, was read by E. O. Hall in a clear tone and without a falter. The second, by Miss Ruth Richard son, was read by W. Rawlins. The reading was a bit too jerky, and hence much force of the composition was

The third, by Miss Sarah J. Lyman. was very well read by H. A. Kluegel. The fourth, by Miss Ellen Pierce

Sunter was herself to have been competitor in the essay contest, but was unable to do so on stress of school work The fifth, by Maria Maby, was read by Walter H. Monroe. Next came the oratorical contest proper, with W. B. Godfrey, Jr., as the first orator. Mr. Godfrey went through with his oration without a break, but if criticism were to be offered, it might be suggested that there was too much sameness to the manner of delivery. The composition was a creditable one and showed thought and preparation,

> Ah Fook was the second and over by the fire and spirit he put into what he was saying. His speaking, on the composition showed that a great amount of study had been indulged in in the preparation of the essay. A better climax could not have been asked for. Taken all in all, the oration was a lone credit to one much older.

> The judges-President Dole, Admiral L. A. Beardslee, U. S. N.; and American Minister H. M. Sewall—retired to the back room for about 10 minutes. Returning, President Dole announced the decision of the judges.

Miss Lyman was given the first prize of $10 for the best essay and Miss Maby was accorded honorable mention. The prize won by Miss Lyman was handed H. A. Kluegel, who read her

In awarding the prizes in the oratorical contest, Mr. Dole said that both faction, and that the judges had found no end of trouble in deciding between them, on account of the merit of each being so close. The delivery had been spirited and warm, redounding to the credit of the youthful orators. then announced W. C. Ah Fook the winner of the first prize ($25) and W. B. The consumption of oil here is about 3,000 cases per month, so that the supply on hand will not last more than three days at the outside, provided, of course, that the 200 cases already sold to be delivered go to the other Islands. Should it remain here among the grocers, the entire stock will probably last four days. After that, darkness to those whose houses are not wired for electricity and cold victuals to those who use oil for cooking.

Castle & Cooke are at present the only importers of oil in large quantities. Practically, they are the agents for the Standard Oil Company, and the price is fixed by the company. Occasionally Waterhouse, Davies or the Hawaiian Hardware Company import oil, but since an arrangement was made by the Standard Oil Company and W. P. Fuller & Co., the importations have been small by firms other than Castle & Cooke, and most of the oil imported by this firm comes from Boston around the Horn. Usually the cargo is from 6,000 to 10,000 cases, the vessels arriving about once a quarter or oftener. The last cargo, instead of coming here, passed on to Manila, hence the short supply today. As soon as it became known yesterday morning that the supply was limited one young man made a tour of Chinatown and bought up all the oil possible from the Chinese merchants. In several places the Chinamen suspected something and declined to sell even at $3 per case. Later on, when they had investigated and found the reason for his anxiety to purchase at an advance, those who refused to sell sat down and smiled; those who sold out sought the quiet of their boudoirs and kicked themselves. John Rodriguez of Barkentine Archer Comes Into Fortune.

John Rodriguez, of Demarara, British Guiana, is the name of the cabin boy of the American barkentine Archer, who, upon arrival in port yesterday, found a letter awaiting him and telling of the sad news of the death of his father, a merchant in Madeira, Portugal, and also of the good news of the leaving of his fortune, a matter of some $19,000, to his son. Rodriguez has been on various vessels for over nine years. He came here from Japan on the ship Benjamin F. Packard, and, having left her, went as cabin boy on the Archer, where he has served faithfully. When seen yesterday he was calmly preparing tomatoes and cucumbers in the cook's galley, and when questioned regarding the matter, seem ed loath to give any information.

The application of Mrs. Harriet Davis for the position presently occupied by Miss May Atkinson was discussed at length by the Commissioners. This was presented a year ago and the committee reported favorably upon it. Mr. Von Holt wanted to know if there were other applications anti-dating this. Mrs. Dillingham favored waiting until vacation began before deciding. The matter was referred back to the committee.

The appointment of a successor to Osmar Abbott at Lahainaluna was also discussed. The name of Fred Abbott was suggested by Inspector General Townsend. The Inspector General was instructed to write to the American Book Publishing Company and ascertain the kinds of books published on this system and whether they would furnish others than their

In the matter of closing night schools at the time the term of the day schools close, Mr. Scott said a canvass had been made among the pupils, but the number of children in attendance was not ascertained. It was thought that two or three rooms might be kept full all the time. Mr. Bowen asked for report, showing nightly attendance. At this point the Board went into executive session.

The escaped convict ran up into Palolo Valley, where several natives, catching sight of the striped suit worn by Fernandes, gave chase, and captured him. Later on, Captain Renken and Patrolman Spillner went up and brought the prisoner to the police station.

Fernandes had but a few days remaining to do time. During his stay on the reef he was given the work of cooking for the prisoners while out on the road.

Lieutenant Holi, of the police force who until recently was a guard at Oahu jail, states that Fernandes was a good man in every way, but on account of his peculiar actions at times, believed him to be slightly "off." ,Certainly there seems to be something in cape when he knows the penalty for so doing is an additional sentence.

Certain brands of preserves, jellies, ketchup and what not were sold as pure, and until the law was enforced did not find out the mistake. The Government chemists analized the contents of sundry tins and found large quantities of apple jelly in what was supposedly pure peach jam.

"I do not know whether the Board of Health could make a ruling that would have the same effect here as it had in San Francisco, but it is certainly worth trying for, and I believe if it is possible, the Board will do it. Unfortunately, there is no Government chemist to do this work. Professor Lyons, in the Custom House, might be assigned to the place, with an increase in pay commensurate with the work. It would require a chemist, of course, to do it. As to testing milk, any one of ordinary intelligence could attend to that branch of the business with the appliances in use.

The Advertiser is taking the right stand in the matter, and I am quite sure the public will support it in the crusade. Honolulu seems to be getting out of its swaddling clothes in the matter of improvements in sanitary matters, and I think the credit belongs to the Board of Health. But the end is by no means reached. Yes, I understand the Board had nothing to do with the organization of the Dairymen's Association, but it may have much to do with its running on the pure-milk basis. Now is the real time for the Board to act in conjunction with the Association and see that the milk is pure. The milk that goes to the Queen's Hospital is tested every day, for there it must not be adulterated, except by persons who know the exact proportions. The milk delivered at the Barracks is supposed to be equal in purity to the sample sent to the Minister of Foreign Affairs when the contract was let. Whether it is or not I do not know. But purer food of other sorts must be had as well as milk. If it is within the power of the Board of Health to Roberts, students at Stanford, also have an inspector of such things, I sincerely trust, for the sake of the health of the community, that some one will be appointed."

The decorations were in every respect superb. Extending as far forward as the second smokestack was a mass of ferns and flags. Midships there was a rockery covered with ferns and calla lillies without number. From the center of this was a miniature fountain of water. This was occupied by Admiral Beardslee, Captain Cotton, Minister of Foreign Affairs and Mrs. Cooper, who received the guests and presented them to United States Minister and Mrs. Sewall. The Flagship Band was stationed on the after bridge and discoursed popular dance music, alternating two-step and waltz, during the evening. Four cabins, those of the Admiral,

Captain, mess and petty officers, were crowned with success, for there was absolutely nothing left undone and nothing to be wished for. Among the 500 present were President and Mrs. Dole, members of the Diplomatic and Consular Corps, Captain Kurooka and officers of H. I. J. M. Naniwa, Captain Buck and officers of U.S. S. Marion, and society people gen-

The Decorating Committee, consisting of Lieutenant-Commander Ingersoll, Dr. Hessler and Lieutenant Kearney, received many deserved compliments from the guests for the original-Ity and scope of the decorations, which while of a different character, compared favorably with the famous groupings on the Naniwa a few weeks

Shortly before 11 o'clock President Dole and wife bade adieu to the miral, and the band played the national anthem as they left the ship in the launch. Then the other guests took their leave in small parties, until the decks were cleared. As Minister and Mrs. Sewall went down the gangway, the band played the "Star Spangled

THE OPINION AND THE FACTS.

First let us have what the doctor said, then the facts upon which he based his opinion, and finally we may ask whether the facts justified that coinion.

The doctor's opinion was this: "The man is suffering from chronic inflammation of the brain."

The facts as set forth subsequently by the patient himself under cath, and also verified by careful investigation, are these:

In August, 1889, the first symptoms of disease appeared. He had a bad taste in the mouth, and a thick, slimy phlegm covered the tongue and teeth so that he was often obliged to wipe it out with a handkerchief. He had no appetite, and after eating the simplest thing he felt great oppression, and pains at the sides and chest. Later on he was seized with dizziness and dreadful pain in the head, the back of head being swollen, and so hot that it seemed on fire. This pain in the head grew worse, until the patient fancied his head must hurst; and, as it was, he nearly went out of his mind with the agony of it. He got little or no sleep night or day, and as he could take practically no nourishment—that is, nothing at all equal to the needs of the body-he gradually fell away until there was scarcely anything left of him but skin and bone. After a time a hacking cough fixed upon him, and he constantly spat up much matter. At this point his malady had some of the ning (the patient's name) was confined to his bed, and for nearly a year was unable to leave the house. As a rule he would rise from his bed about noon. and lie on the couch the most part of the day. To show his weakness we need merely say that he could only cross the room by taking hold of the furniture. The physician who attended nolulu, in January last, the subject was him for one year said that Mr. Manning had chronic inflammation of the that the difficulties of introducing a brain, and recommended the applicance were very great, tion of poultices and fomentations to

"After having been under the doctor's treatment for a year," says Mr. Manning, "I was no better, and he said he could do nothing more for me. I then had another doctor, who said my case was hopeless, and nothing could be done for me. Our Rector's daughter got me severa bottles of medicine for consumption from London, but it did no good, and I lingered on in the and Frank Medcalfe, bookkeeper at the Volcano Stables, will take place next such pain that I often wished it might it was reported that I was actually dy-the fiead.

"In November, 1892, Mrs. Franklin, wife of the corn merchant, gave me a bottle of medicine which she hoped might do me good. It was called Seigel's Syrup. I had no faith in it, but I began taking it. In a week I felt a little better. My head was easier, I had and proceeded to the Loebenstein some relish for food, and what I ate on his arrival the papers and the pubplace. Finding the madame was not agreed with me. So I kept on with it, at home, possession was taken at once. and gained a little every day. From done after his arrival is well known. the remainder of the evening was and soon gained two stone in weight spent in playing cards. Refreshments I am now quite strong, and am back to my work. I can eat any kind of food, I should today be in my grave; and so great is my desire that others may know of the remedy that saved my life, I give full permission to the proprietors to publish my case if they think best to do so" '

The above statement is condensed found at the Volcano Stables, supply-order to save space. The other, howeving Miss Cunningham's place during er, will soon be published in full in anhas appended confirmatory statements

Now, we ask, was the doctor right has been visiting in the district. He in thinking the case to have been one addressed the boys of the Catholic of cerebral inflammation? No, clearly not, as that nearly always arises from Dr. W. L. Moore is able to attend to a severe injury to the bram, and is usually fatal in a short time. The head trouble in this case was congestion of the brain, resulting from acute indigestion and dyspensia, Mr. Manning's true and only disease. When Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup cured that the brain and other disordered organs recovered health and tone.

Facts About Mr. Fitzgerald's Visit.

Plantation Did the Good Work.

In November, 1896, Mr. W. N. Armstrong, then visiting in San Francisco, Sutter street, and made inquiries of him regarding the difficulties which had arisen out of importation of Japanese labor in violation of the Federal laws. Mr. Fitzgerald gave him the information asked for, and permitted him to read the voluminous testimony taken on the subject. The interview led to a general conversation on the subject of white labor. Mr. Fitzgerald stated that he and the labor party of California were opposed to the annexation of the Islands and the reciprocity treaty because it would bring Asiatic labor into competition with the white labor of California. Mr. Armstrong replied that in his opinion, white labor could be gradually introduced into the Islands, and furnished Mr. Fitzgerald with a report of the report of the Labor Commission of 1895 in which this subject was fully considered, and the need of white labor, as a new political force, was earnestly considered. Mr. Fitzgerald, on reading it said, at another interview, that if the Hawaiian community endorsed these views and would act with energy in the matter, he believed that the white labor could be introduced with advantage, and a new field opened for the employment of any good surplus laborers in California,

Mr. Armstrong, thereupon, wrote at length on the subject to Mr. James B. Castle, and stated that in his opinion, Mr. Fitzgerald was a man of remarkable ability and executive force, understood thoroughly the character of the men seeking labor in California, and would be a most admirable adviser on the subject. But he declared that no movement in the direction of white labor could be safely made until Mr. Fitzgerald had visited the plantations and personally examined the conditions under which the white laborers must live. Mr. Fitzgerald also declared that he could not advise any one proposing to emigrate and work on any sugar plantation until he could satisfy himself in the matter.

Mr. Castle at once took up the subject, and interested the Ewa plantation in the matter.

When Mr. Armstrong arrived at Hocarefully discussed. It was believed and that it could succeed only through the work of men who were determined that it should succeed. The directors of the Ewa plantation were ready to try any experiment which promised to terminate the present contract labor system, and would "Americanize" the Accordingly, they requested Mr Armstrong to write Mr. Fitzgerald to visit the Islands and study the situation and make up his mind on the method of reaching the best results.

Mr. Fitzgerald consented to come, as soon as the Legislature of California had adjourned, and he did so.

It was not intended, at the time of Mr. Fitzgerald's arrival, that there should be any public notice taken of the subject, inasmuch as his report or estimate of the conditions might be unfavorable, but the desire of the public for news made this impossible, and lic discussed the subject. What was
